

Doge Run White paper V1.1

Introduction

This year's boom in the crypto market has led to the rise of a new champion. The play to earn game industry has seen multiple crypto currencies explode to exceed $1bn market cap valuations. Now it's time to make way for Doge Run!

Doge Run combines everyone's favourite meme-coin with the lucrative and trending gaming sector of the crypto market. Doge Run is inspired by "runner games" such as Geometry Dash, the goal of our game is to obtain the highest score possible by continuing to survive and run while collecting coins to boost your score.

Token Utility

Our native token Doge run ($DRUN) will be imperative to the success of our project and play to earn aspects of the game. To share in the riches of the Play to earn gaming features players will be required to hold $DRUN and pay a small fee for each game which is sent directly to the rewards wallet refilling the potential gains for our players. This ensures that the success of our game will go hand in hand with the success of the token, allowing huge potential profits for both traders and lovers of P2E games.

Launch

We are launching our project with level 1 fully completed and ready to play on day one with further levels in development ready for release shortly after launch along with the play to earn feature. We plan to stagger the releases of each level and future developments of the project in order to ensure we deliver the optimal experience for our holders while maintaining the longevity and long term goals of our project. We plan to release 5 levels in our first season alongside an NFT collection which will include 5 unique in-game utilities. The details of this can be found below in the 'NFT' chapter.

Game-play

Doge Run is an animated character based game developed to offer a fun and simple experience for players seeking to earn income while enjoying playing video games. Inspired and informed by classic platform titles Geometry Dash and Mario Run, the player guides Doge through level environments as fast as possible, collecting coins and special power ups while trying to dodge and avoid enemies/obstacles. Designed in a unique fashion to allow players their choice of varying difficulty from start to finish, balancing their own risk to reward and offering a diverse gaming experience which never gets boring.

NFT

The creation of our NFT collection is already underway and will be released within the first quarter of our project's roadmap. The NFTs feature a unique utility which allows players to use them in-game to boost game-play attributes allowing for a competitive edge and enhanced yield opportunities.

Featuring 5 base characters with countless different looks ranging from low to high rarity, our NFT collection allows holders to access new playable characters in game corresponding to their own NFT, replacing and upgrading the default doge. Further utility for these NFTs will come down line. We plan to incorporate NFT staking to offer added benefits and incentives to holders who Hodl their NFT's.

Be on the lookout for a release date soon to be announced on our website and social channels as these will NOT want to be missed.

Leader-board

The Doge Run leader-board will be the ultimate way to earn money in the game with sizeable rewards for those elite gamers who hold the top few spots. Top scorers on the leader-board will receive $DRUN prizes weekly, offering constant incentives to play and improve at the game.

The Doge Run Weekly Leader-board will yield players the greatest in game rewards. The Weekly Leader-board will automatically calculate players' top daily scores during the 7-day week into a total combined score, the top 20 leader-board spots will qualify for rewards from the weekly leader-board, meaning only those elite and dedicated few who master Doge Run will take the weekly prize. With the Doge Run Leader-boards offering such frequent and generous P2E mechanics this project ensures all players have the maximum incentive to play and win.

Future Developments

We will be continuously improving and evolving our project to give the best possible experience for our holders and provide a steady flow of content that keeps players engaged with the Doge Run project into the long term.

Our product at launch demonstrates the ground floor for our project, a proof of concept and quality that our team will strive to maintain and build on throughout each stage of our roadmap. The sky's the limit for Doge and its just one of many places you'll get to join him as future levels release.
